The Funding of Death

From the Deagel Report to Planned Parenthood: Who Profits When Humanity Declines?

Science to Sage · Karen Elkins, Editor & Founder · April 2026

There is a forecast that most people have never heard of — and that its authors quietly removed from the internet. The Deagel Corporation, a military intelligence data aggregator whose sources have included the CIA, the NSA, the United Nations, and the World Bank, published projections for the year 2025 predicting the United States population would fall from 316 million to fewer than 100 million — a reduction of 68.5 percent. The United Kingdom: down 77 percent. Germany: down 65 percent. Switzerland: its largest population decline in 150 years. These were not the ravings of a fringe website. They were published by an organization embedded in the machinery of global defense intelligence. And then, quietly, they were removed.

The forecast was gone before 2025 arrived. The devastation it predicted did not materialize on schedule. But as we stand in the aftermath of a global pandemic, a mass vaccination campaign of unprecedented speed, documented declines in birth rates across every heavily vaccinated nation, and a half-century of federally funded "population services" that have terminated nearly four million lives in the last decade alone — the deeper question demands to be asked: Is someone profiting from humanity's decline? And if so, who?

> "The pattern is not conspiracy. It is policy — written in funding streams, patents, and population data that most people never see."

The Deagel Report: Intelligence That Disappeared

The Deagel Corporation describes itself as a guide to military equipment and civil aviation. Unremarkable on its face. Yet for roughly a decade, between 2008 and 2014, its site published country-by-country population forecasts for the year 2025 that stunned the analysts who encountered them. The projections showed catastrophic depopulation of the Western world — concentrated specifically in the most economically developed, most highly vaccinated, most pharmaceutically integrated nations on Earth.

When pressed for explanation, Deagel's own commentary pointed toward a collapse of the Western financial system and the unraveling of pension and service economies. Their disclaimer noted: "The forecast is nothing more than a model whether flawed or correct. It is not God's word or a magic device."

Deagel 2025 Population Forecasts — Selected Countries

United States	−68.5%
United Kingdom	−77.1%
Germany	−65.1%
France	−42.0%
Australia	−34.6%
Switzerland	Largest decline in 150 years
Netherlands	−0.1% (zero)

What strikes analysts is the geographic logic. The declines are concentrated in the wealthiest nations — those with the most robust pharmaceutical infrastructure and the highest vaccine uptake. Countries barely affected are those least integrated into this web. That asymmetry has never been satisfactorily explained.

DARPA, mRNA, and the Architecture of the Spike

To understand how a novel vaccine technology came to be injected into billions of arms within twelve months of a pandemic declaration, one must follow a funding trail that begins not in a pharmaceutical boardroom but in the United States Department of Defense.

The Defense Advanced Research Projects Agency — DARPA — is the Pentagon's research arm, credited with inventing the internet, GPS, stealth aircraft, and now, foundationally, the mRNA vaccine platform. In 2013, DARPA awarded Moderna $25 million to develop RNA vaccines, validating the concept that synthetic mRNA could instruct human cells to produce specific proteins. This was defense research — investigating how the body itself could be turned into a production facility for biological agents.

That phrase is worth sitting with. The body as a production facility. The COVID-19 mRNA vaccines instruct human cells to manufacture the SARS-CoV-2 spike protein. Peer-reviewed research has confirmed that the spike protein circulates through the body and that the lipid nanoparticle delivery mechanism accumulates in organs including the ovaries — as documented in pre-clinical studies submitted to the FDA.

> "The spike protein was the payload. The lipid nanoparticle was the delivery system. Both were developed with Pentagon money — long before COVID existed."
> — DARPA mRNA investment research summary

Operation Warp Speed was a joint operation between the Department of Defense and the Department of Health and Human Services. Military personnel occupied key leadership roles. Military logistics handled supply chains. The underlying platform technology had been incubated in military research for a decade prior.

Gates: A Family Business in Population

Bill Gates has described, in his own recorded words, the dinner table conversations of his childhood — his father, William H. Gates Sr., discussing his work with Planned Parenthood. "My dad was head of Planned Parenthood," Gates told journalist Bill Moyers in 2003. He said it not as a confession but as a point of pride — a lineage of conviction.

Gates Sr. served on Planned Parenthood's board during what researchers describe as its "infancy" — its years of rebranding away from its eugenic origins under Margaret Sanger, who openly advocated for eliminating "human weeds," published Nazi eugenicist Ernst Rudin in her Birth Control Review, and designed the Negro Project specifically to reduce Black birth rates in the American South.

→ Margaret Sanger — Founded Planned Parenthood from the American Eugenics Society. Advocated sterilization of "undesirables." Published Nazi eugenicist Ernst Rudin.

→ Rockefeller Foundation — Major early funder of Planned Parenthood and International Planned Parenthood Federation. Funded global population control programs.

→ William H. Gates Sr. — Board member, Planned Parenthood. Co-founder, William H. Gates Foundation (1994). Co-chair, Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation until death in 2020.

→ Bill Gates Jr. — $20M to Moderna (2016). $55M to BioNTech (2019). $52M to CureVac (2015). Largest private donor to WHO. Funded EcoHealth Alliance. 2010 TED Talk: vaccines could reduce world population by "ten or fifteen percent."

→ Gates Foundation + DARPA + Moderna + EcoHealth + Wuhan Institute — All interconnected through funding and research centered on gain-of-function coronavirus work and mRNA vaccine development.

Public Funds, Private Patents: A System Designed to Extract

Here lies a scandal that transcends political affiliation: the public pays for the research, and private entities own the rewards.

The mRNA technology was developed substantially with taxpayer money — through NIH grants, DARPA contracts, BARDA awards, and federally funded university research. A peer-reviewed analysis estimated direct US government investment in mRNA vaccine technology prior to COVID exceeded $337 million, with $5.9 billion more indirectly related. Then Operation Warp Speed added billions more. Moderna received $1.5 billion in government funding for its COVID vaccine alone.

Moderna held the patents. Moderna’s executives became billionaires. The taxpaying public received the injections — and the liability, since vaccine manufacturers were granted full indemnity under the PREP Act. No profit for the people who funded the research. No recourse for those who were harmed.

This is the same model that governs university research across America: public grants fund the science, universities file the patents, private companies license the technology, executives and investors reap the rewards — and the public receives nothing but the product. In the case of mRNA vaccines, the product was injected into their bloodstream.

The Bayh-Dole Act of 1980 created this architecture deliberately — allowing universities and companies to patent inventions made with federal funding. Cold Spring Harbor Laboratory — tied to the early eugenics movement — today holds extensive genetic patent portfolios built substantially on public research dollars. The public funds the discovery. The institution files the patent. The corporation reaps the reward. The people pay twice.

Planned Parenthood: The Numbers Behind the Mission

Planned Parenthood performed a record 434,450 abortions in its most recently reported fiscal year — the second consecutive year of record-setting numbers, representing a 34 percent increase since 2014. The organization performs nearly 40 percent of all abortions in the United States: more than 1,190 lives terminated every single day.

During the same decade that abortions rose 34 percent, cancer screenings fell by more than 42 percent and prenatal services declined by more than 55 percent. In fiscal year 2024-25, Planned Parenthood received $832 million in taxpayer funding — nearly half its total revenue.

Planned Parenthood: A Decade of Shifting Priorities (2014–2024)

Abortions performed	+34%
Cancer screenings	–42%
Prenatal services	–55%
Taxpayer funding 2024-25	$832 million
Total abortions — past decade	~4 million
Abortions to adoption referrals	187 to 1
Daily abortions	1,190+

Sworn testimony in Planned Parenthood's own retaliatory lawsuit revealed that affiliate officials who publicly denied interest in fetal tissue procurement contracts had privately emailed colleagues saying they wanted to "move forward." The Senate Judiciary Committee and House Energy & Commerce Committee made criminal referrals to the FBI and DOJ. No prosecutions followed. The public funded this organization to the tune of $832 million. The public was never asked.

The Reproductive System Under Assault

A systematic review in Frontiers in Drug Safety, drawing on 61 peer-reviewed studies, confirmed what hundreds of thousands of women reported immediately after vaccination and were told to disregard: COVID-19 vaccination disrupts the menstrual cycle. Heavy menstrual bleeding was subsequently added to the product information of both Moderna and Pfizer. A PLOS ONE meta-analysis of 17 studies covering more than 1.9 million participants found a 19 percent greater risk of menstrual cycle disruption in vaccinated women.

Research published in NPJ Vaccines identified a direct biological mechanism: the vaccine's lipid nanoparticle envelope accumulates in the ovaries, directly affecting ovarian granulosa cells — the endocrine cells governing fertility. Exposure produced significant changes in AMH (anti-Müllerian hormone, a marker of ovarian reserve) and InhibinB, disrupting the hormonal axis controlling follicular growth, estrogen production, and uterine function.

> "Women who reported these effects in 2021 were dismissed. The science that vindicated them arrived years later — after the global rollout was complete."
> — Science to Sage editorial observation

Birth rates across 19 European nations dropped precipitously — in every country studied, the inflection point of decline occurred precisely nine months after peak vaccine uptake in spring 2021. Switzerland recorded its largest birth rate decline in 150 years. Peer-reviewed research in Human Reproduction Open confirmed the association. The question Science to Sage asks is this: when does a pattern of coincidences become a conclusion?

Coordination, Censorship, and the Suppression of Dissent

Internal communications obtained through FOIA requests and court proceedings revealed that the CDC coordinated directly with Facebook, Google, Twitter, and YouTube to flag and remove content questioning vaccine safety — including content later proven accurate. NIH Director Francis Collins privately emailed Anthony Fauci urging them to "take down" the Great Barrington Declaration — signed by epidemiologists from Harvard, Oxford, and Stanford. The WHO openly admitted advising social media platforms on strengthening "misinformation policies."

Facebook, Google, LinkedIn, Microsoft, Reddit, Twitter, and YouTube issued a coordinated joint statement to elevate only WHO- and CDC-approved content. This was not organic. It was orchestrated. The effect was identical: dissent was silenced, injured people were gaslit, and the policy window for questioning the rollout was closed before the data existed to evaluate it.

The Question That Cannot Be Avoided

We return, at the end, to where we began. A military intelligence-linked website forecast the depopulation of the Western world. A Pentagon research agency spent a decade developing a technology that rewrites cellular instruction. A billionaire whose father ran the rebranded eugenics organization seeded that technology into pharmaceutical companies before the pandemic that made it global. Those same companies were indemnified from liability. The public funded the research. The patents went private. The birth rates fell. The menstrual cycles broke. The congressional referrals gathered dust.

The ideology — that human population is a variable to be managed — runs in an unbroken thread from Margaret Sanger through the Rockefeller Foundation through William Gates Sr. through the Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation. It is written in funding decisions, in patent filings, in TED Talk slides, in population projections.

The Deagel Report asked us to imagine a world with 68 percent fewer Americans. The entities traced in this report have spent decades building the intellectual, financial, and biological infrastructure that might make that imaginable. The public — whose taxes funded the research, whose bodies received the injections, whose children were never conceived — received nothing. Not the profits. Not the patents. Not even the truth.
